

Ohioans Injured By Food-Borne Illness – 2008

Data from the Ohio Department of Health

- The charts below detail the number of Ohioans in 2008, per county, that were medically diagnosed with food-borne illnesses.
- These Ohioans were injured during the course of 92 specific outbreaks.
- The Center for Disease Control estimates that nationwide there are over 75 million annual cases of food-borne illness, many of which are unreported. Food-borne illnesses cost the U.S. $152 billion in health-related expenses each year.

Central
Delaware	39
Franklin	36
Licking	87
Madison	6
Marion	30
Total	198

Southeast
Jackson	13
Monroe	4
Scioto	225
Total	242

Southwest
Auglaize	4
Butler	60
Clark	7
Greene	84
Hamilton	59
Mercer	5
Montgomery	81
Warren	49
Total	349

Northeast
Ashland	4
Ashtabula	8
Cuyahoga	59
Geauga	50
Harrison	12
Lake	38
Lorain	20
Mahoning	7
Medina	16
Portage	513
Stark	23
Summit	68
Total	818

Northwest
Crawford	6
Hancock	15
Huron	80
Lucas	45
Sandusky	3
Seneca	8
Total	157

Multi-State	147
--------------------	------------